Taft Confers with Tener.

New York, Dec. 10.—Charles P. Tatt. owner of the Chicago Cubs, and President John K. Tener, of the National League, held a lengthy conference at the league's headquarters here last night. While no details of the conference were made public and President Tener declined to discuss his talk with the owner of the Cubs, it was generally believed that Mr. Taft is now ready to dispose of his stock in the Chicago Nationals at a reasonable figure.

The showing of the Business team was entirely unexpected. Buck Wise started the scoring by shooting a basket from the far side of the floor, and then it was a grand parade toward the baskets by Messrs. Culligan and Wise.

This is not taking anything from the North Capitol Street team, as it fought the shooting of the Business forwards, sandwiched in with some perfect pussing now and then by the guards, was the score so one-sided.

Many fouls were committed by both fives, but Business caused infractions of the rules on a greater number of occasions. Line-up and summary:
